

Introduction

Hi guys, I am Isaac here. I am here to present my project in front of you which I have done with html css and javascript.

Project about

My project is about trust which help the needs of the differently abled peoples
And my project title is fresh trust

Why i chose this project

I choose this project because all we had a dream in our childhood,when i grow up i will help needy people,

In my childhood days, on weekends, me and my family went to the people who are in need. We provide some biscuits and clothes which I have not used for a long time.

You know what, we are still doing these activities.

I have no idea about my project topic,my mom said me to do some project like helping others
So i done this project

Some features

In my project there are more feature ,about i want to show you two main features in my project

First feature user can buy some products for free by contact the trust by mail

Second feature they can book the hospital which provides free medical care for them.

Now i take you some my top 2 features in my project

Here the user named john heard about the fresh trust which helps for differently abled people .

Then user flow started.
